I. Mission and School Overview

Mission Statement

The field of alternative health and nutrition has become one of the most dynamic areas of interest and learning today. The Global College of Natural Medicine offers comprehensive, yet affordable alternative home study programs for active adults throughout the globe.

School Overview

The Global College of Natural Medicine (GCNM) offers a non-dogmatic approach to holistic health and wellness education that will improve the quality of the student's life, health, and career options. Our courses are specially designed for:

- Those wishing to start an exciting career in the rapidly growing field of natural health and wellness – the next trillion dollar industry.
- Those involved in the retail, or distribution of natural health and wellness products, such as dietary supplements.
- Natural health practitioners looking to expand their business potential (chiropractors, reflexologists, aromatherapists, massage therapists, fitness instructors, iridologists, herbalists, etc.).
- Those wishing to learn about natural healing techniques to enhance their lives, improve their health, increase longevity, and enrich the lives of those around them.

We also believe that wellness, including holistic medicine, is one of the most rewarding fields to be involved in today. There are more and more people seeking ways to improve and maintain their health naturally. Therefore, the need is also growing for qualified natural health practitioners.
